RELIEF IS ORGANIZED FOR FLOOD REFUGEES THROUGHOUT ILLINOIS

Hundreds of Families Are Driven From Homes by High Water in Middle West—Beardstown Cut Off as Levees Are Washed Away.

Chicago, April 15.—Relief agencies throughout the middle west were marshalling their resources today to give aid to refugees driven from their homes by floods. Agents of the central district of the Red Cross have been sent to many sections to assist in the work of alleviating suffering. Three hundred families according to reports received here, have been driven from their homes by the menace of the flood near Peoria, Ill. Breaking of the dike that holds in check the rapidly rising Illinois river was predicted within 24 hours and city officials warned those living near the levee to flee from danger. Automobiles, tractors, wagons and every other available vehicle is being pressed into service to transport the household effects of the refugees. The plant of the Illinois Light and Power Company may be compelled to close because of the flood. This would mean that Peoria would be without electric lights and power for its industries.

Trains entering Peoria are forced to go through six inches of water for several blocks. The state highway department has closed the paved road leading into Peoria and Chicago. The road is under a foot of water.

Cut off from all train service by floods, the city of Beardstown, Ill., may face a serious food situation unless rains cease and train service is restored. Food supplies on hand, it is estimated will be sufficient for several days. All levees for miles up and down the river at Beardstown have been washed away.

Breaking of the levee at Lagrange, Ill., has flooded large areas of that town. Two hundred feet of the plain levee at Aldridge, near Cairo, has collapsed and more than 75,000 acres of farm lands are flooded.

SERIOUS FLOOD SITUATION IN OHIO CAUSED BY HEAVY RAINS

Rivers Overflow Banks in Many Sections—Rainfall General Over State—No Fears of Flood Are Felt in Dayton But Water High.

Columbus, April 15.—The most serious flood situation in Ohio today is along the Hocking valley, according to reports received by U. S. weather man Alexander. The Scioto river is at flood stage and has overflowed the lowlands south of Columbus. The river will continue to rise today, it was stated. The Olentangy river has overflowed the lowlands between Columbus and Delaware.

The Muskingum river is at flood stage at Coshocton. The situation in the Muskingum valley, south of Coshocton, it is reported is fast approaching flood stage. Prediction is made that flood stage will be reached today at Zanesville, McConnelsville and other points along the Muskingum river.

Very heavy rains are reported having occurred in Southern Ohio during the past 24 to 48 hours. In many places, the rainfall reached two inches while more than a 3 inch rainfall is credited to other southern Ohio points.

STRIKE OF PAPER WORKERS IS NEAR

New York, April 15.—A strike affecting nearly a half million paper mill workers, which would cut production of newspaper paper 4,500 tons daily and leave available for newspaper publication purposes only ten days supply seemed inevitable for May 1, this afternoon when a bombshell was exploded by the employers at wage negotiations being conducted here.

When representatives of employers and employees met at the Murray Hill hotel to negotiate a new contract replacing one which expires on May 1, the paper makers announced their proposals were a ten per cent cut for skilled workers, return to locality rates for the unskilled and straight time pay for all overtime Sunday and holiday work.

Hostile feeling immediately was apparent. "The proposal is absurd. We cannot accept it," J. T. Carey, spokesman for the paper makers union declared.

"The skilled worker have had two large cuts the last year. Last August reduction was made which was equivalent to 15 per cent."

"It looks to me as though no paper will be manufactured in North American union mills after May 1 until some amicable settlement is reached."

M'GANNON SEEKS PETITION IN ERROR

Columbus, April 15.—Counsel for Columbus, Ohio, today filed with the state supreme court a motion for leave to file a petition in error, appealing from the action of the Cuyahoga county courts which sentenced him to the penitentiary, following conviction of perjury in connection with unsuccessful prosecution of McGannon on the charge of murdering Harold C. Kacy.

Claim is made that the appellate court erred in holding that the common pleas court did not err in the charge to the jury. The appellate judges also it is claimed, erred in holding that the verdict, judgment and sentence imposed upon McGannon was not contrary to law but supported by sufficient evidence.

HEADLINE MUST SAY SOMETHING WORTH WHILE

The heading to your advertisement, is it of an inspirational character or one acquired through the more methodical methods of building a telling heading.

The heading must be effective—MUST say something worth while—must carry the eye of the reader into the text that follows.

Yet newspaper advertising headings especially do not, in a large number of cases, receive the real thought and attention they should.

Forget about your heading the next time you prepare an advertisement, try writing your text first, describing your goods and their varied uses, it's almost a safe bet that a really effective heading will "flash" itself to you.

TRANSPORTATION TO BE FURNISHED TO CRIPPLED CHILDREN

Plans for the crippled children's clinic to be conducted by the Rotary Club and Red Cross are well under way. The survey of crippled children shows that there are about 30 in Greene County. Of this number about ten have had nothing done for them and it is hoped all these will attend the clinic. Two more were discovered by the Red Cross nurse who is trying to visit the parents of each child before the clinic on Monday. The Rotary Club will supply transportation for every child who could not come otherwise. Already word has been received from parents in Osborn and Bellbrook that they will bring their children.

A survey made by the Rotary Club in the State shows that there are about 12,000 crippled children in Ohio, or about two to every 1,000 population. Greene County has about 30 cripples to 31,000 population or about one to every 1,000 population. In commenting upon this situation an official of the Red Cross said Saturday:

"What does this mean? It is said that the value of a life is economically between six and seven thousand dollars. So that if we are able to make possible the cure of three-fourths of the children now afflicted, we shall have economically accomplished a value of hundreds of millions of dollars."

ROTARY ENTERTAINS GUESTS ON FRIDAY

Ten members of the Washington, C. H., Rotary Club were guests of the local club at the evening meeting held at the Elks' Club Friday. The Dayton Rotary Club was represented by Clarence B. Greene of the Bureau of Research, who was one of the speakers of the evening. The main topic of Mr. Greene's talk was an appeal for Rotarians to attend the international meeting at San Francisco, in June.

The ethics of good government and the spirit of Rotary, were taken by former Senator Frank Parrett, another speaker of the evening. The third speaker was Merritt Hitchcock of Washington, who gave an informal talk. The program of talk was followed by the club dinner.

FAIL TO REVEAL EXACT CAUSE OF FATAL ACCIDENT NEAR OSBORN

Theory is That Driver of Machine Struck by Traction Friday Afternoon Did Not See Car—Dead are Lucille Fisher, Marjorie Snediker and Daniel Lang.

The exact cause of the accident that cost the lives of three students of Bath Township Centralized School when the machine in which they were riding was struck by an I. C. and E. traction car at the New Osborn Crossing, Friday afternoon had not been determined, Saturday. It is thought by occupants of the traction that the three young people did not notice the approaching car, since their machine had curtains on.

Dr. R. L. Haines, County Coroner, viewed the bodies Saturday morning, and from the testimony of those who saw the accident and from the other facts learned, stated that the cause of the three deaths was entirely accidental. No blame will be laid on the passengers of the car, and had blown his whistle and placed the brakes on the car. He was unable to stop the car in time, however. The machine was struck squarely in the middle.

Daniel Lang, Jr. and Lucille Fisher were killed almost instantly, both served on the line for 21 years without a fatal accident. He declared he saw the approaching auto as did the passengers of the car, and had blown his whistle and placed the brakes on the car. He was unable to stop the car in time, however. The machine was struck squarely in the middle.

Every effort was made by Motorman Jones, who saw the oncoming machine to stop his car, from the time he was about one hundred and seventy feet from the crossing. No inquest or probe was conducted the statement of accidental death being accepted.

The three students were Lucille Fisher, 15 daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fisher of Fairfield. Marjorie Snediker, 14, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Snediker, of Fairfield, and Daniel Lang, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Lang, Sr. living on the Bryon road, two and one half miles southeast of Fairfield.

The accident occurred when the three students were returning to their homes in Fairfield, after being dismissed from the Bath Township Centralized School, high school, near the new site of Osborn, at 2:45 o'clock, in Lang's Ford roadster.

The interurban tracks at the crossing are visible for a great distance on either side. The theory that the young people were racing to beat the car to the crossing is overthrown, since the rise at the crossing would have precluded any possibility of Lang, who was driving the machine, beating the on coming car.

The traction car was bound from Dayton to Springfield, in charge of Motorman James Long, and Conductor Dan. Jones, both of Springfield. Motorman Long was seriously affected by the accident. He had

TRAIN SERVICE SUFFERS FROM BIG RAINFALL

Xenia and Cincinnati Trains Delayed By Flooded Tracks

Train service between Xenia and Cincinnati was impaired Friday afternoon and evening when the heavy rains caused streams along the Pennsylvania System right of way to flood the tracks at several places. Small streams swollen by the heavy rain fall and great amount of surface water, caused the worst trouble, flooding the tracks at Kings Mills at a point this side of Morrow, and at Oregonia. Train services Friday afternoon and evening were held up by the high water, trains running two hours later than scheduled during Friday evening.

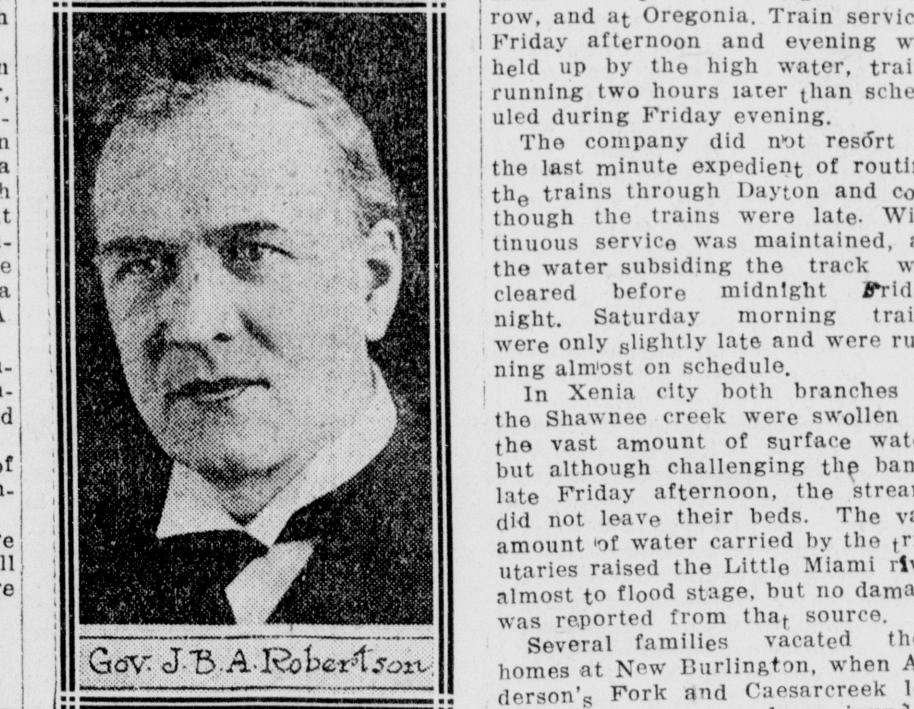

The company did not resort to the last minute expedient of routing the trains through Dayton and although the trains were late. With tinuous service was maintained, although the water subsiding the track was cleared before midnight Friday night. Saturday morning trains were only slightly late and were running almost on schedule.

In Xenia city both branches of the Shawnee creek were swollen by the vast amount of surface water, but although challenging the banks late Friday afternoon, the streams did not leave their beds. The vast amount of water carried by the tributaries raised the Little Miami river almost to flood stage, but no damage was reported from that source.

Several families vacated their homes at New Burlington, when Anderson's Fork and Caesar creek left their banks in some places, inundating roads and in some cases flooding houses in the lowlands. The family of Charles Wood vacated their house when water flooded the lower floor and several other families, whose homes were threatened, also moved out before the water reached higher depths.

The water at New Burlington was not as high as during the Christmas floods, it was stated Saturday, stopping two feet below the level of that flood period. Saturday the creeks had subsided into their banks and all danger was passed.

M'ADOO TO BE A CANDIDATE IN 1924 RACE

COX NOT ENDORSED

Former Chief Executive Will Not Throw Support to Ex-Ohio Governor

Washington, April 15.—William Gibbs McAdoo expects to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency in 1924.

Back of that simple fact, already well known to democratic leaders here, lies one of the contributing causes for Woodrow Wilson's spectacular break with Joseph P. Tumulty, for 12 years his secretary and most devoted follower, according to "neutral" Democrats today.

The manner in which the innocently worded "message from Wilson," was presented to the Jefferson day banquet by Mr. Tumulty created the impression, intentionally or otherwise, that the former president was endorsing the renomination of ex-Governor James M. Cox. It was the desire of Mr. Wilson to "scotch" this impression quickly and effectively, rebuke his former secretary for presuming to speak for him politically, and at the same time "even up" an old score which his long illness had heretofore prevented.

Mr. Tumulty had nothing to add today to his statement that he was sincerely sorry for the misunderstanding that had arisen between himself and his former chief. Mr. Wilson likewise had nothing more to say. The quiet about the secluded home in S street was even more pronounced than usual. Friends of both men said the matter could be considered "a closed incident."

It continued however, to be the political sensation of Washington.

Some of Mr. Tumulty's friends, attributed the sensational action of the former president today to the "petulance of a sick man." At the S street house, however, inquirers were informed today that Mr. Wilson was in better health than usual, that he would take his customary outing today and he would occupy his usual seat in a local vaudeville theater tonight.

It is the gossip of inner Democratic circles, in the capital that McAdoo's sudden removal of his official residence from New York to California, is closely connected with his presidential aspiration in 1924 and that two years hence he will have the support of his father-in-law, which was lacking in 1920. He is said to have wanted to get "as far away from Washington" as possible, in the meantime.

Mr. Wilson "kept hands off" in 1920, but according to his close friends, he was "very well pleased" when the San Francisco convention selected James M. Cox instead of William G. McAdoo.

Sick, though he was, and desirous of endorsement of his pet policies, he nevertheless, had political acumen enough to see that his cause was lost in 1920, long before the election and he did not desire to see his son-in-law go down in the Democratic crash of that year. He had his eye on 1924, if the political magpies of the capital are to be believed.

"Two years hence Mr. Wilson believes it will be a different story, according to those who have talked to him. By that time the popular clamor against the league of nations will, in large measure, have died away, and he sincerely believes that the people generally will have become more reconciled to this country's closer association with the other nations of the world through the medium of the league of nations."

AGRICULTURAL CONDITIONS IMPROVED GREATLY IS WORD

Washington, April 15.—Agricultural conditions in western and middle western states have improved 100 per cent during the past six months, Eugene Meyer, Jr., managing director of the war finance corporation, declared here today upon his return from a 10,000 mile trip through this territory.

Meyer reported that "the farmers had greater buying power were producing their crops cheaper, that money was easier to obtain, that prospects for big crops were good, that labor was cheap and that banks were in good condition."

LIBERTY BONDS REACH PAR DURING WEEK

Greene County owners of Liberty bonds and they number hundreds of people, have watched with great satisfaction the rise in the market price of these securities in the past few weeks.

Fourth 4 1-4's which were dragging but a few short months ago this week touched par for the first time since their sale and closed at $99.98. All other issues sold up in sympathy.

It is evident that Libertys are going to remain around par and those who have to sell in the future will be able to cash them at full price something that has been impossible heretofore and has cost "hard up" sellers a lot of good money.

Today's Talk

by George Matthew Adams

Loosen Up!

I have noticed that there is in certain human beings a lack of free expression and that from them you get the impression of a mind and body that is tied—that continually frets under something.

You talk with them, and they often bark at you instead of easily exchanging views and entering into helpful conversation.

What 90 per cent of the people in this world need more than anything else is to relax—loosen up!

William James in one of his delightful essays speaks of "that blessed internal peace and confidence—that wells up from every part of the body of a muscularly well-trained human being and soaks the in dwelling soul of him with satisfaction—an element of spiritual hygiene of supreme significance."

A Scottish Doctor once expressed this as his leading impression of Americans: "You Americans wear too much expression on your faces. You are living like an army with all its reserves engaged in action."

Walk down the streets of any great city and study the faces of those you pass. I am not sure but the noted Doctor set forth much truth.

It is not necessary to appear busy in order actually to be extremely busy and accomplishing a full program. Those who complete the most work are usually those who do it with the most ease and by way of the simplest plan.

Our nervous systems must either be our slaves or our servants.

And it is our minds that trot along with the momentum that is constantly spurred by our nervous energy.

But loosen up! Be calmer and remember that—there is time.

When We Promise We Keep Our Word!

If we say your battery is going to be ready for you at ten a. m. Saturday, you can depend on having it then; or of getting a phone call from us in advance explaining why it won't be ready.

And it doesn't make a bit of difference whether it happens to be a Willard Battery or some other make—you get the same consideration, the same courtesy, the same skilled workmanship.

Bring your battery to Battery Headquarters! You may be sure we won't try to sell you a battery if repair of your present one is going to save you money.

AUTOISTS SERIOUSLY HURT IN ACCIDENT

Canton, O., April 15.—Owen McNichols, 649 Wilson Avenue, and Walter Goodrich, 1011 Kennilworth Avenue, both of Coshocton, were badly hurt yesterday afternoon when an automobile driven by Lloyd Fleming with whom they were riding crashed at high speed into a telephone pole on the Canton-Massillon road.

Fleming had just hired them to work in his saw mill and they were on their way to the mill.

Just before they hit the pole, Fleming's car struck and wrecked a machine driven by F. W. Barrows, Conn., Fleming was arrested and is now in the county jail.

Following the accident physicians reported both McNichols and Goodrich probably fatally injured but this morning authorities at Aultman hospital say their injuries are less serious than first thought and that both will recover.

EASTER SUNDAY WILL BE FAIR

Washington, April 15.—The much criticized flagger found a friend today in the Weather Bureau, which indicated that she might go forth on Easter wearing her bright colored tweed suit and periwinkle hat without fear of rain.

Generally fair weather for Sunday was seen by the bureau for that portion of the country east of the Mississippi River and probably for the Southeastern States.

Unsettled conditions, however, may prevail from the Great Lakes west to the Pacific coast, it was said.

Moderate temperatures will be experienced throughout the Southwest, while in the North the weather generally will be cool, but not cold.

STRAW HAT DAYS ONE MONTH OFF

"Only thirty more days until straw hat day" to use the language of the before-Christmas shoppers.

Straw hat day this year comes on May 15, which will be a surprise, to no one, as it comes on that day every year.

Venturesome men who like to force the season a bit, like the women and the popular magazines do, may don their hay headgear, previous to date, and run a chance of the consequences.

According to the by-laws of the "Amalgamated Association of Males" it is permissible to shatter any barnyard derby that appears in public before that time.

What fortune has decreed, let no man attempt to frustrate, hot-heads and summer weather, contrariwise.

FAIL TO REVEAL WHEREABOUTS OF CHECK WORKER

Investigation of the floating of five bogus checks here last Saturday by a man giving his name as John R. Shuck, has failed to reveal the whereabouts of either Shuck or his wife.

A sight draft given by Shuck to the Commercial and Savings Bank, on the Bobbs-Merrill Publishing Company, which concern he claims he was employed by, for $175, has been returned to the local bank marked by the publishing house that that concern does not know Shuck. A wife sent the company previously, brought the same information.

The Commercial and Savings Bank, did not honor the draft at the time it was presented however, waiting for a return from the Indianapolis concern, and therefore did not lose anything on the transaction. A search of the room Shuck and his wife occupied in Xenia made by Chief of Police Graham, failed to reveal a clue to his real identity, or where he is likely to have gone. Shuck was careful not to leave anything that could be used to trace him, when he left.

Shuck and his wife lived here two weeks, while he posed as a representative of the Bobbs-Merrill Publishing Company. He opened an account at the Commercial and Savings Bank and wrote several checks on that account that were cashed. Last Saturday he drew out practically all of the money left in the bank, and then floated five checks on the J. T. Charter, Jewelry store, The Criterion Clothing Store, Fetz Bros. and the C. E. Bradstreet Grocery and the Harry Sohn Drug Store and disappeared.

ELEANOR GRACE SAYS

Again the ancient miracle,
As new as though it had not been!
Blossom by blossom, bell by bell,
The south winds usher Easter in.

On every hill beneath the skies,
Where winter storms have worked their strife,
April, that shining angel, cries
The resurrection and the life.

Japanese crepe is truly the cloth of many uses. It makes charming dresses for mother for either house or street wear, it is both serviceable and pretty for the young girl and makes adorable little dresses or rompers for the little tot. It comes in a variety of beautiful new colors, and the nicest thing of all is the fact that it tucks beautifully. The price is inviting, only 35c yard. See the display now in the window.

For the baby's carriage for Easter Sunday a new Japanese silk robe would add vastly to his winsome appearance. Lovely indeed are the ones of delicate shades of pink and blue with dresden centers of pink and blue on white background. The quilted ones of pink and blue are wonderfully pretty too. They come at $2.00 and $2.50.

No, lady fair, we have not gone into the grocery business. Those things on the toilet counter that look exactly like lemons are bars of toilet soap. Its lemon soap (ho, and every woman knows there is positively nothing better to take off tan than lemon juice. At this season when sun and wind combine to play havoc with your complexion that kind of soap is just what you want. Only 7c a cake.

Before you go home tonight drop in at the store and get one of those beautiful little pongee handkerchiefs to carry with your new Easter suit. The ones with beautiful bits of embroidery in the corner at 65c. The plain ones with colored hemstitching are 25c.

Peace Army Of 150,000 Is Necessary For Safety

Washington, April 15.—A potential "war army" of 2,000,000 men, as planned by the war department and approved by congress, is absolutely dependent upon a "peace army" of 150,000, it was declared today before the senate military appropriations committee by Brig. Gen. Wm. Lassiter, the assistant chief of staff.

Gen Lassiter strongly opposed any reduction in the present personnel declaring that it would endanger the war department's plan for whipping a great war army into action.

RAIN STOPS GAME

The game between the O. S. & S. O. Home Cadets and the Yellow Springs High School baseball team could not be played Friday afternoon because of rain.

The game was to have been staged in Yellow Springs as a return game, the Cadets having beaten the Yellow Springs nine in a close game here last week.

The Cadets were scheduled Saturday afternoon to meet the Cedarville College nine on the Home grounds. In spite of the fact that the diamond is slow, the game will be played. Torrence will be in the box for the Cadets.

BROTHER DIES

Mrs. William H. McGervey received word Saturday morning of the death of her brother, James A. Downes, of Chicago, who died at a Chicago Hospital, Saturday morning, following an operation. Further particulars of his death were not learned. Mr. and Mrs. McGervey are leaving Saturday evening for Chicago.

WHAT ARE Gabriel Snubbers

A simple, efficient and practical shock preventing device for motor cars.

As the car springs compress, the spring within the coil expands and takes up the slack in the belting, then as the rebound commences the coils of belting begin to tighten and create friction on the band of brass between them, thus forming a resistance that increases gradually as the coil compresses the spring within it. This action steadies and controls the car springs, and causes them to regain their normal position gradually without jerk or abrupt stop.

Give them a trial and be convinced.

CANADA GETTING A BETTER CLASS OF IMMIGRANTS THAN THE UNITED STATES.

Those in the United States who indulge in alarm for Canada's future—and be it said to their credit they are few—select poor evidence when they pick on census statistics to support their contention that there is something wrong with the dominion. To point out that in the period from 1911 to 1921 Canada only added 1,562,000 to her population while in the same decade the United States gained 13,710,000 means little. From Canada's standpoint it means more than her rate of increase for the ten year period was 21 per cent, while that of the United States was only 14 per cent. Canada is growing more rapidly than the United States, and though the growth may not be fast enough to please the most optimistic in the dominion, it should be entirely pleasing to all who view the situation broadly.

As the growth during the last 10 years of the Empire to the North is satisfactory in view of the broadest consideration, it is also gratifying when viewed in the light of other deterrents which have handicapped the dominion in seeking comparisons with the United States.

Immigration has greatly swollen America's numbers, and while that should be the chief resource of Canadian development, immigration barriers admit quality at the expense of quantity. The requirement that an applicant for admission have a considerable sum of landing money serves to exclude large numbers who find no such obstacle to entering the United States. Even the eagerness for immigration from Great Britain has not been strong enough to overcome the hostility of the dominion to artisans and laborers from the urban districts. The emphasis of Canadian immigration policy is placed upon invitation to farm workers and domestic servants. Thus the bulk of would be immigrants are not invited.

The war, too militated against a good census showing for Canada in 1921. Not only did the war virtually suspend immigration, as it did in the United States, but it took a heavy toll of Canadian life. More than 60,000 youths of the dominion gave their lives in the long conflict, a number proportionately equal to 720,000 for the United States.

The dominion is going ahead, consistently and steadily, and without building up for itself an immigrant alien problem to worry it later. All in all, Canada's increase in population for the last census period is remarkably satisfactory.

IT CAN'T BE DONE.

Nothing worth while was ever started, from the building of the Ark to the digging of a subway or the flinging of a bridge across a river, without a cry uprising, "It can't be done! The bigger the thing to be done the bigger is the deprecatory uproar. Propose whatever you please, and there will be many to inform you that it is quite impossible.

The whole history of invention is the story of those who faced and overcame not simply the odds that insensate things oppose, but the disapproval and the disbelief of people.

Every single new idea that has proved to be worth anything has met with a resistance varying from mild expostulation to positive ferocity. Every pioneer, striking out on new paths, has been given to understand, in language polite or rude, that he was a fool. He has been assailed by those who showed to their own complete satisfaction that what he suggested was perfectly ridiculous.

When he has done what they told him he couldn't do, the unbelievers as a rule were nowhere to be found. Some of them had changed themselves into noisy claimants for the credit of all that they had formerly railed at and denied. The rest are as silent now to praise and to sympathize as once they were to ridicule and to condemn.

There is nothing finer to see than the man who, having endured and won, accepts his victory with equanimity and is not bitter at heart toward those who said he could not win. He is grateful to those who believed and helped; he is not vengeful to those who scoffed and flouted.

YOUR SECRET THOUGHT.

In your struggle to make more money and achieve general success, are you making full use of the thought-force that can be generated by that dynamo, your brain?

Thought is the most powerful force used by man. Without it, failure is almost a certainty.

Ask any self-made man what made him successful. He will give you many reasons. All can be summed up in the one word, thought.

All of the material things used by man in his civilization are merely manifestations of human thought.

All of man's creations exist in thought form before they are translated into material.

Buildings exist in the brains of architects and contractors before they become physical accomplishments.

The same principle is true of all human activity. The city man's backyard garden and the farmer's crops are matured and harvested in thought form before the real seeds are even planted or the soil prepared.

THE PROBLEM OF INVESTMENT.

Confidence men are said to be getting sums annually from the American people estimated from $500,000,000 to $2,000,000,000. Here is one of the great national wastes. The poverty of many families is due to throwing away money on Get Rich Quick schemes. If that money could be put into productive investments, it would relieve the housing shortage, harness idle water powers, make work for hundreds of thousands of people.

It is just as hard to keep money after you get it, as it is to earn it in the first place. The moment it is suspected that a man has a dollar to invest, a flock of salesmen representing good, bad and indifferent concerns, are after him to induce him to buy their securities.

The great majority of people have not had the training in the difficult problems of investment, that would make them competent to decide whether a security offered them is good for anything or not. The best thing they can usually do is to put the money into home town banks, or into some real estate mortgage or other sound investment near home.

THREE HUNDRED ARE IN ATTENDANCE AT COUNTY RECEPTION

The second Green, County High School Junior-Senior Reception, held at the First M. E. Church, Friday evening was attended by three hundred high school students, teachers, and superintendents. Eleven county high schools were represented at the affair. Students from Jamestown, Bowersville, Cedarville, Ross Township, Yellow Springs, Bath Township, Osborn, Beavercreek, Spring Valley and Caesar Creek being present.

The severe electrical storm which swept the county caused the church to be in darkness and was a great handicap to the early part of the program. The get acquainted contest in which a prize was offered to the person who secured the most introductions, was prevented by the darkness. A novel touch was lent to the scene however when the banquet was served by candle light.

Rev. G. A. Scott delivered the invocation, after which the ladies of the church served a delicious repast in the dining room consisting of chicken patties, scalloped potatoes, sweet potatoes, salad, peanuts, rolls and butter, ice cream, cake and cocoa.

County Superintendent of Schools H. C. Aultman acted as toastmaster and cleverly introduced the various speakers of the evening. Marion Burr, of Jamestown welcomed the Seniors on behalf of the Juniors and offered them the best wishes of the Juniors for success in life. Hazel Burnett of Bellbrook responded for the Seniors and turned over to the Juniors the duties and privileges that would be their's next year.

Martha can of Ross gave a toast "To the Faculty" expressing the appreciation of the students for the work of their teachers and bringing out the idea that the teachers instruct by example of their own lives as well as by words. Clara Edler of Yellow Springs gave "To the Superintendent" in which she spoke of the superintendent as the pilot who leads us upon the sea of life. Superintendent Aultman responded with the thought that it was the co-operation and inspiration given by the people themselves that made possible the work of the leaders. Margaret, Solters of Spring Valley whose subject was "Life's Links" in which she compared life to a chain and described the different links. Arthur Ream of Bowersville spoke on "Co-operation" in which he brought out the idea that we are a part of the life of others and said that a man who does not work with others cannot be a great success. Evelyn Lackey of Jamestown took as her topic, "Report Cards" cleverly exposing the meaning of the different marks that appeared on them.

Edward Kauffman of Osborn toasted the old school, speaking of the removal of Osborn and also brought out the advancement of educational facilities. Ruth Lewis, of Caesar Creek, expounded the toast "To Our Parents" bringing out the great debt we owe our parents and expressing the thought that we should lead our lives to bring honor and joy to them. Bessie Mills, of Cedarville, topic was "To the Future" stating that the future is full of meaning and that the Golden Rule should be our motto in life. Ralph Wenrick, of Beaver, chose "The Heroes of the Court" as his subject and enthusiastically complimented both winners and losers for their efforts.

Miss Cleo Wilson who was absent had the toast "Our Musicians." Supt. Aultman called upon Arthur C. Bales of Xenia who stressed the value of cooperation naming the county high school orchestra as an example and also the value of friendship in school and in the world.

In introducing Superintendent Paul C. Stetson of the Dayton schools Supt. Aultman spoke of his high record and said he was the best man that could be secured for the occasion. Mr. Stetson took as his topic, "Education, Achievement, Service." In speaking of education he said that what we usually speak of as education is really training and conditioning said that education is made up of training plus association plus home environment plus the church.

The period of achievement begins after graduation according to the speaker. Little acts we think of as being formed into habit and future men and women are being made through habits now forming, said Mr. Stetson, and also made the statement that if you do your work right the future will take care of itself.

Service to the republic was the final topic of the speakers address. He said that our nation was young and would be just as successful as those who have received their education are willing to be of service. In closing the speaker advanced the belief that the future of our country lies in the young people and stated that if the young people set up high ideals of service our country is safe.

Supt. Stetson's talk concluded the program for the evening and the students spent the remainder of the evening in getting acquainted with the county high school orchestra a symphony organization of twenty pieces furnishing the music.

THEODORE BRADDOCK CALLED BY DEATH

After an illness of three years, Theodore Braddock of South King Street, died at the Dayton State Hospital, Friday evening at six thirty o'clock.

His wife and two daughters, Mrs. Robert Stump, of near Kingman, and Mrs. Bert Kline, of near Xenia, were with him at the end.

The body will be taken to Waynesville, where services will be held at the Waynesville chapel, Monday morning at ten thirty o'clock.

COACH HARPER WILL STAY AT WILMINGTON

Coach Fowler V. Harper of Wilmington College, to whom belongs a great deal of the credit of placing the College in a high place in an athletic way during the past two years is to remain a member of the faculty during the summer school session, which is devoted largely to teacher-training work according to announcement being made by President Jay of the College.

Coach Harper is a classmate and an intimate friend of Coach Cathman of Xenia High School, and is well known to athletes in Greene County. His work during the summer school will consist largely in coaching prospective coaches of High School athletics, and it is expected that the class of coaches being coached by Coach Harper will be one of the large ones of the summer session.

Rippling Rhymes

NATURE'S GIFTS.

Nature took some soil and granite, and a tube of liquid glue, and she fashioned this, our planet, back a million years or two. And she made some lakes of water, strung them round with wondrous skill, so the thirsty gent might totter to the shore and drink his fill. Well she knew the human being would be thirsty every day (for Dame Nature is all-seeing) as he baled his share of hay. So she filled the lakes with water and the rivers with the same, and the little streams that pitter through the fields, unknown to fame, and the sparkling rills that babble, and the ponds where filies grow, where the ducklings quack and gabble while cavorting to and fro. Nature knew that human critters must be moistened well within, but she filled no lakes with bitters, and she made no streams of gin. And the rain that helps the cotter raise a bumper crop this year—it is always made of water, it is never made of beer. And the dew that shines so brightly in the morning, on the lawn, cooling off the tired world nightly, never knew a demijohn. When we're thirsty there are rivers, meres and brooks from which to choose, but Dame Nature ne'er delivers anything that's labeled booze.

News Notes from the Farm Bureau

Will Demonstrate Application Of Limestone On Greene County Farms

Feeling that most of Greene County soils are needing applications of limestone for the better growth of clovers and other crops, the Greene Co. Farm Bureau, through its soil and crops committee in each township, has arranged for several demonstrations the last week in April.

The Farm Bureau has received the

TELLS WHY CHICKS FAIL TO SURVIVE

Reasons baby chicks are dying by thousands in Ohio this spring are given in a special letter just sent out by E. L. Dakan, poultry specialist of the Ohio State University, to the proprietors of 582 farms who are co-operating with the University in trying out modern methods of poultry husbandry.

"This week," says Professor Dakan, "I had a hurry call to a farm where of 2,000 baby chicks born three weeks ago, 1,000 were dead. This is what I found:

"First, a stationary brooder house that should never have been built. Young chicks should be moved often to fresh ground to avoid disease. Second, two brooder stoves under which 2,000 chicks had been placed. This is twice too many.

"Drinking water with some kind of red medicine in it, but no milk. Alfalfa hay for litter, but no fresh green feed. There were whole fields of bluegrass a few rods away.

"The brooder house was unventilated because it was thought a draft would injure the chicks. The air was stale and hot.

Fresh air is an absolute essential for baby chicks.

"I single this farm out, only for special example. It is not unique in its methods; thousands of other Ohio farms are doing just about the same thing, with the same results.

"Of course, it is possible to violate every principle of modern practice, and sometimes raise chicks but the chances are that these methods will fail."

MANY CITY PEOPLE STUDYING FARMING

Of 13,548 who are now on the student or "alumni" rolls of 25 correspondence courses, which the Ohio State University has been offering since 1915, something more than half are farmers. The other half includes convicts, millionaires, newspapermen, clergymen, stenographers, actors, barbers, professional ball players and lawyers.

"The farming instinct seems to be universal," remarks J. E. McClintock, supervisor of the work who has been surveying his immense student body. "Our survey shows students in more than 100 distinct walks of life. While the great majority are Ohioans a scattered enrollment includes men and women in Canada, and in 42 states and dependencies of the United States."

The courses, which are free, are arranged in from three to 17 mimeographed lessons, with quiz papers attached. One lesson is sent to the student upon enrollment and those following are sent as soon as the previous quiz papers are received, graded, and returned. The student may elect any course or courses and may take as long as is desired to complete the work.

"About a third of those who enroll are of the class who simply like to get mail," Mr. McClintock says. "They never return the first question sheet. Another third go through with it in their own time, sometimes taking two years to finish a four lesson course and a final third take course after course, as fast as we can send out the lessons. One man is now completing his eighteenth course."

HELPED HER MOTHER WONDERFULLY.

In these days of "flu," coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, it is well to know that every year there are used more bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar than of any other cough medicine. Mrs. S. L. cooperation of several individuals and companies in its project, including the Ohio Marble Company, of Piqua, which is giving a carload of their "Miami" limestone, for the use of the farmers, the B. & O. Railroad which through its agricultural agent C. K. Quivey, of Baltimore, is hauling this limestone to Greene County free of charge. Mr. Quivey is the first man in the United States who has gone before a railroad company to take up the matter of giving free transportation to materials that are to be used in demonstrations. He will be here during the week of the demonstrations and oversee the matter.

The American Seeding Machine Company through its local agents, the Huston-Bickett Hardware Company, are furnishing one limestone spreader for this purpose.

The limestone received will be divided among five farmers and the

OHIO WHEAT RID OF HESSIAN FLY

"There is practically no Hessian Fly in Ohio wheat this year. Fly damage is not expected in any Ohio county."

"Credit for this condition," continues T. H. Parks extension entomologist of the Ohio State University, "goes to the farmers of the State who worked through their county agent and farm bureau organizations for general observation of the 'safe-sowing' dates announced by the College of Agriculture and the State Experiment Station last fall.

"Observation of such sowing dates in the fall of 1920 cut fly infestation in Ohio from the 44 percent that had so greatly reduced the crop that year to 15 percent last year. This year spring surveys, just completed, show infestation to be below 5 per cent, or inconsiderable.

"Hessian fly will not menace our wheat crop this year nor, with proper precautions, for several years to come. Our surveys shows all early-sown wheat heavily infested but there is practically no early-sown wheat.

Entomologists call Hessian fly the worst enemy of the American wheat crop. The United States Department of Agriculture estimates that this pest cuts the national crop an average of 10 per cent annually, with an estimated annual money loss of $160,000,000.

"The wheat looks very good in Greene County," stated County Agent Ford S. Prince, Friday, "and where the wheat is inferior, the fact is due, in my opinion to the lack of draining. Fields that have been poorly drained have come out badly, but the wheat over the county as a whole shows good prospects."

"The Hessian fly has been found quite seldom, and only the early fields have felt its effects," said Mr. Prince.

STOCK JUDGING CLUB IS PLANNED

A stock judging club, an outgrowth of the club which carried on work during the Greene County Fair last year is being planned for the last week in April by the Farm Bureau. The members of the club which is one of the various Boys and Girls Clubs are scheduled to do an advanced work this year in stock judging it is announced. At least three breeds of stock will be turned over to the club members for judging. The following breeds of live stock will be judged, dairy cattle, hogs, beef cattle, horses and sheep.

The first meeting of the club will be held April 27 and 28, for the purpose of judging dairy cattle, Holsteins, Jerseys and Guernseys.

Professor Ivan McKellip, of the Ohio State University, will give instructions at the meeting.

DAUGHTER HAD TO HELP MOTHER

Now Can Do All Her Housework Alone Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Jasper, Minn. — "I saw in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took it because I was having such pains in my stomach and through my back that I could not do my work. I had tried other medicines, but none did me the good that your Vegetable Compound did. Now I am able to do all my work alone while before I had my daughter staying at home to do it. I have told a number of friends what it has done for me and give you permission to use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. JESSE PETERSEN, Route 1, Jasper, Minn.

There is no better reason for your trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound than this—it has helped other women. So if you suffer from displacements, irregularities, backache, nervousness or are passing through the Change of Life remember this splendid medicine. What it did for Mrs. Petersen it may do for you.

The Vegetable Compound stands upon a foundation of nearly fifty years of service.

DESIRE ACCURACY IN FILLING OUT FARM STATISTICS

The time for filling out tax blanks is here again and with the tax blank comes the blank on agricultural statistics. There is a tendency to think that because two blanks come to a farmer in the same envelope they are somehow connected and in some way or other used for the same purpose of finding out the taxable property of the farmer. As a matter of fact the only reason the Agricultural Statistics blank is received in the company of the tax blank is because the State Tax Commission and the County Officials are good enough to the State Department of Agriculture to print the blank and do the heavy work of mailing out of some 250,000 of the blanks. The law requiring the statistic blank was passed at the request of the State Department of Agriculture.

Those records are of the greatest value in making estimates of the acreage planted to the different crops and in checking up the estimates of crop conditions issued by the State Federal Crop Reporting Service. In fact these reports are made the basis of Crop Reporting in some states where the Agricultural blanks are given careful attention. The State Bureau of Markets and the other Divisions of the State Department of Agriculture make frequent use of the blanks. It is hardly necessary to say that these blanks are for official uses of the Department of Agriculture only and cannot be obtained by anyone else. The tabulations are all made in the office of the Agricultural Statistician.

The statistics blanks carry the statement that a fine of $50 may be levied for failure to fill out a blank and in some States having a law similar to ours this penalty has been imposed and it may be necessary to do so in this state. The small amount of time and attention which is required in filling out this blank should not be a heavy burden on a farmer and this effort by him will be of great help in the work of the State Department of Agriculture. There is no reason why the farmers of Ohio cannot do as good a job of filling out this blank as do the farmers in Indiana and Wisconsin.

C. J. West,
Agricultural Statistician.

A ROOMY COTTAGE DESIGNED BY CHAS. S. SEDGWICK

UNUSUAL IN MANY RESPECTS is this five bed room cottage, which is so cleverly arranged that not one bit of space is wasted. Compactly built, it is really much larger than it looks to be and in reality quite a large family could very easily and comfortably live in this home.

Entrance is through a glazed sun porch into the living room which has an open fireplace. Two bedrooms, several closets and the kitchen comprise the remainder of this floor plan. It is here intended, in line with the modern idea of conservation of space and trouble, to combine the dining and living room but, if the owner preferred, one of the first floor bedrooms could very easily be made into a dining room, preferably the one that communicates with the kitchen. There is a central chimney for the fireplace in the living room and for the kitchen range and heating plant. There is a stairway from the kitchen to the second story, also basement stairs beneath the grade entrance. Here one finds a full and complete basement with space for heater, fuel, laundry, fruit cellar, etc.

On the second floor are three bedrooms and bath room. Each bedroom is well lighted by windows in front and rear and dormers on each side. The floors of this story may be either birch or maple, while those of the first floor are oak. The inside finish is of birch for paint or white enamel, the doors being stained mahogany.

As shown here this house is constructed of frame, sheathed and back plastered, the outside being covered with wide siding to window sills, and above walls being covered with cement stucco with "Pebble Dash" surface. The roof is shingled and stained green, with outside trimmings painted white. The outside entrance steps are of cement concrete and finished smooth.

Exclusive of the heating and plumbing, it is estimated that it would cost between $3,500 and $4,500 to build this home.

BOYS FAIL TO RETURN FROM TRIP

Word has been received here of the death of ten year old Howard Kelsey Johnson, of Ottawa, Kansas. He, with another little fellow, went fishing on Saturday, April 8th. When they did not return, the Boy Scouts and over a hundred men began a long search which ended Sunday morning with the finding of both bodies within a few feet of each other. Howard's mother will be remembered in this city as Miss Cora Kelsey, sister of Rev. Hugh Kelsey. She attended High School in this city, graduating in the class of 1904. The sincere sympathy of many friends is extended to the bereaved family.

Washington, April 15.—The government's war contract claim of more than $3,000,000 against the Lincoln Motor Company of Detroit, will be pressed to a decision in the federal court at Detroit, without delay Attorney General Daugherty declared yesterday after a conference with President Harding at the White House.

The court will be asked, Daugherty said to pass upon the validity of the war department's claim for reimbursement in the sums alleged to have been collected unlawfully by the Lincoln Company.

SOME USEFUL RECIPES

Date-Nut Sandwiches: Wash, stone and chop 1 pound of dates, and mix these with 1 pound of chopped English walnuts. Add only enough cream to make the mixture spread easily. A pinch of salt improves the flavor, and powdered sugar may be added if desired.

Eggs a la Goldenrod: Put 1 tablespoon of butter in a pan on the back part of the stove and, as it melts, add 1 tablespoon of flour, 1-2 teaspoon of salt and a pinch of pepper; gradually add 1 cup of sweet milk, stirring constantly, then the whites of 3 hard-boiled eggs which have been chopped fine. When hot, put a large spoonful of this mixture on 3 slices of toast and grate the three egg yolks over all.

Black Bean Soup: Soak 1 pint of black beans overnight and in the morning pour off the water and put them on the range to boil in 2 quarts of cold water. Slice 1 small onion and fry it in 1 tablespoon of butter, then add it to the cooking beans. Let simmer 4 or 5 hours, or until beans are soft, adding more water as it boils away. Put the soup through a strainer, return it to the fire, and add 2 teaspoons of salt, 1-4 teaspoon of mustard. When boiling again, thicken it with 1 tablespoon of flour which has been rubbed to a paste in 2 tablespoons of butter. Season with salt and pepper to suit taste. Cut 1 lemon and 2 hard boiled eggs into third inch slices and remove crusts. soup. Serve at once. Delicious, with the following:

Croutons: Cut stale bread in one-third inch slice and remove crusts. Spread thinly with butter, then cut the slices in one-third inch cubes, and bake them until a delicate brown.

Grapefruit-Nut Salad for a Guest Meal: Cut 1 large grapefruit into small pieces, discarding all the fibrous part, and mix with this pulp 1 cup of walnut-meats which have been chopped not too finely. Make a boiled salad dressing and pour over it. Especially dainty.

Meat Salad: Put 1 or 2 pounds of corned beef through the meat grinder. Now mix together 2-3 cup of vinegar, 1 tablespoon of sugar, 1 teaspoon of mustard, and 1 raw egg; turn into sauce pan and when it has boiled stir the chopped meats into it. Let cook 3 minutes, then cool. This is best when served very cold on lettuce leaves.

Old Fashioned "Snow Balls": This is a delicious guest dessert. Cream 1-2 cup of butter, add 1 cup of sugar, the well beaten whites of 4 eggs, 1-2 cup of sweet milk, and 2 cups of flour sifted with 2 teaspoons of baking powder. Fill buttered cups about half full of this mixture, place them in a steamer, and steam 20 minutes covered lightly. When done, remove the snow-balls from the cups and roll them quickly in powdered sugar. (As they must be served hot, do not put them on to steam until dinner is ready.) Serve with the sauce given below. (If you have no regular steamer, you can steam the little cups in a pan filled half-full of boiling water.)

Creamy Sauce: 1-4 cup of butter creamed with 1-2 cup of powdered sugar; beat until light and foamy. Then add slowly 1-2 cup of sweet milk, and 1-2 teaspoon of vanilla. Beat well and serve on the hot snow balls—or on any hot pudding.

"Innocence," I remember the man-equin announced herself with a roguish eye as she appeared in the wide doorway of the crowded salon wearing the white frock illustrated here. And it was indeed, one of the nicest shown that afternoon, for all its chaste simplicity.

All white, even to the shiny beaded girdle. Any of the silk crepe materials may be used for such a frock, the pleated panels being made of Georgette. Above the waist, the panel is loose and slightly drooped; below the waist the skirt which is self-bound at the edges laps over the pleating at one side and the back is exactly the same, except that the pleating is reversed to the left side.

BEAUTY CHATS

Imperfections of Historic Beauties

One wonders when reading stories of famous beauties of history whether they were really as lovely as tradition writes them. To be sure their portraits are beautiful enough, but the portraits were undoubtedly idealized. Now and then, in fact, we come across some disillusioning bit of information about them.

Few of them: we can be sure, possessed really lovely complexions. In every age which produced these famous beauties it was the fashion to coat the skin thickly with all sorts of paints and cosmetics. It was the fashion in the days of Nell Gwyn and Du Barry, Diane de Poitiers, Mary Stuart and others, to lace in the waist to an unhealthy degree, to take little exercise, to live much indoors, dance all night, sleep all morning and live principally on meat. No one could have a good complexion with such a mode of life. I am sure most of them had pimples and blackheads, many of them, in fact, confessed as much.

Some famous beauties, of course, used less artificial means to preserve their good looks. Diane de Poitiers, for instance, took a cold bath daily and a lot of exercise which kept her so youthful and lovely that at 50 she won the love of the young King Henry. Ninon de L'Enclos is thought to have used henna to preserve her red gold hair and is known to have used astringents and cold baths to keep her skin firm and young. Many historic beauties bathed in milk, which we know is most beneficial to the complexion. But the famous Duchess of Devonshire was really rather fat and coarse, and another beauty of her time used so much white lead to bleach her face that she poisoned her system and ruined her skin so she could not appear in public.

DR. LORENZ SAILS FOR HOME; WILL RETURN

New York, April 14.—Dr. Adolf Lorenz was a passenger on the La-France sailing for Europe this week. He was accompanied by Anton Wedl, importer, who induced him to come to this country.

Dr. Lorenz, who treated thousands of cripples during his visit, at first was forced to curtail his operations because of opposition he met from members of his profession throughout this country. He finally conducted free clinics under the guidance of New York's Health Department until he obtained a license from the state. Later he conducted clinics in New Jersey and Detroit.

The noted surgeon is coming back to stay, in September and will bring his family, which consists of Mrs. Lorenz and two sons, with him. The elder son who is 36 years old, is a physician and his father's assistant, having taken care of his practice in Vienna while his father was in this country. The younger son, who is nearly 18 years old, will enter Columbia next fall, preparatory to beginning a medical career.

FEELS LIKE A NEW WOMAN

Since I have been taking Foley Kidney Pills I am not so lame. My back ached all the time and my eyes were all a blur. Now I can see fine and feel like a different woman. Since I have taken two bottles of Foley Kidney Pills I don't have that tired feeling. I can do my own work now." They bring quick results. Sayre & Hemphill.

FRESHMEN AWARDED PLACE ON HONOR ROLL AT CENTRAL

After the clouds had rolled away from the scholastic struggles of the seventh month, and the marks had all been recorded, the prize sophomores class was surprised and chagrined to see that their place at the head of last year's list had been appropriated by their juniors and successors, the freshmen. For six months this distinctive honor had rested on the class of '24 until under the impression that it was their rightful property, they rested on their oars and allowed the class of 1925 to speed swiftly past.

Twenty-five of the four hundred students of Central High won the coveted honor of being enrolled among those to whom were awarded all E's on the grade cards issued last Wednesday week. The upper classes retained their dubious distinction of running far in the rear of the younger mates, the sophomores and freshmen. Of the twenty-five fortunate ones, who have won the approbation of their instructors, fourteen were freshmen, eight were sophomores, two were juniors and one was a senior. This is the largest honor roll of the year which speaks well for the improvement made in all class especially in the freshmen and sophomore groups. The honor roll is as follows:

GLEE CLUBS CONTINUE

After an intermission of some weeks both the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs resumed practice this week. The Boys' Club under Mr. Shanks' capable direction are practicing twice weekly as are the girls under Miss McCarty's leadership.

CENTRAL HIGH IS OBSERVED

Wednesday morning an observation class of Cedarville College visited a number of the classes at Central observing the work done by both teacher and pupils. We hope that Central High offered some help and suggestions to those who are planning to teach in the near future.

DRIVING RAIN IS BELIEVED CAUSE OF FATAL ACCIDENT

bodies were mangled. Marjorie Snediker, lived about twenty minutes, but did not regain consciousness. The auto was crumpled and was dragged for about 300 feet. The track was strewn with school books and bits of clothing. Lang's body was picked up almost under the car. The girls' bodies were found a short distance back of the car. Dr. Simpson of Fairfield was summoned, and arrived before the Snediker girl breathed her last. The bodies were removed immediately to the Morris Brothers' Undertaking Establishment at Fairfield, where they were prepared for burial.

Lang, who was to have graduated from the Bath township high school this spring, was to have attended the county senior junior reception and banquet at the First Methodist Church in this city, Friday night. All three of the pupils were among the most popular in the school, the Snediker and Fisher girls being freshmen in the high school.

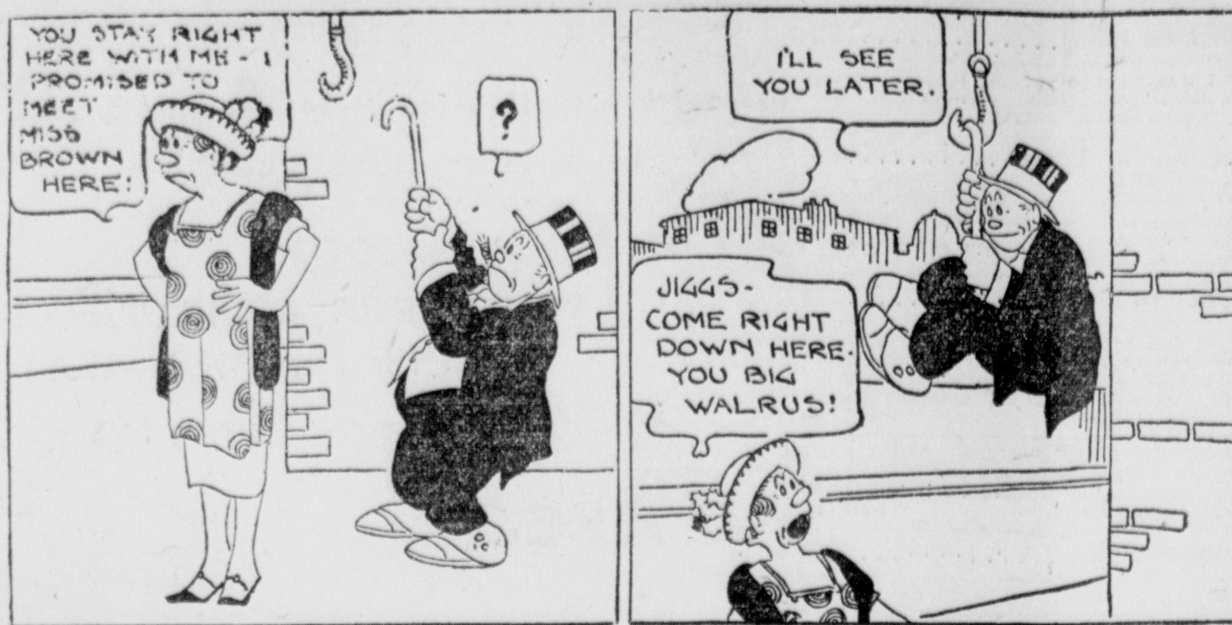

Lang had lived in the vicinity of Fairfield all of his life and was active in the school and church work of the community. He had played on the baseball and basketball teams, and had starred at position of guard on the basketball team for the last two seasons. He and Miss Fisher were preparing for parts in the play to be given next month by the Reformed Church of Fairfield. He was an active Sunday School worker and had led in the Bible study among the young people. He had voiced his intention of joining the Reformed Church Easter Sunday, according to the pastor of the church. He leaves his parents, a sister, Emma Lang, and a half brother, Calvin Koogler.

Marjorie Snediker was a freshman of the high school, had lived in Fairfield all of her life and was a member of the Fairfield Methodist Church. She leaves her parents, Miss Fisher was a freshman and had played on the Bath township high school girls' basketball team, as had also the Snediker girl. Both had been life-long comrades, both playing the position of guard on the basketball team. Miss Fisher leaves her parents and three brothers, Russell, Cecil, and Curtis. The families of the young people are prostrated with grief.

Fred Showers, Fairfield youth, and close companion of Lang, narrowly missed being in the fatal crash. He had accompanied young Lang, home from school every day, with the exception of two and had been invited by Lang Friday to ride home. As the two girls were with him, Showers told Lang to go ahead as he did not want to crowd the machine.

NEW JASPER TOWNSHIP SCHOOL DISTRICT PRACTICALLY ELIMINATED BY ACTION OF BOARD IN TRANSFERRING RESIDENTS

The transfer of approximately 100 property owners, involving 7,500 acres and including more than half of the New Jasper Township school district, allowed by County Board of Education Friday afternoon, practically eliminates that school district.

With the expectation that property owners in the central and northern portion of the district, including the village of New Jasper, will seek transfer from the district at the meeting of the board next Friday, it is anticipated that the entire New Jasper township school district will be wiped out and the board of education dissolved, the residents of the Township being transferred into either Silvercreek or Xenia townships for school purposes.

Petitions presented by 50 or more property holders dissolved the entire eastern and southern sides of the district into Silvercreek township for school purposes when they were acted upon favorably by the board Friday. Practically 4,000 acres of territory was involved in the single transfer. Petitions signed by an equal number of residents on the west and north side of the school district, involving about 3,500 acres of land, and asking for transfer to Xenia township for school purposes, were allowed by the board and practically eliminates that side of the district.

Four petitions were presented to the board, one large petition being filed from the east and west sides with smaller petitions from a part of the northern section and from the southeast. This leaves only the central and a part of the northern section of the original district including New Jasper village, and property owners in this section will be given an opportunity to select what township they wish to be transferred to and present their petitions for consideration next Friday.

Several of the victim's schoolmates, who were following close behind in buggies and machines. Funeral services will be held Monday.

The dissolution of the New Jasper Township School district is the result of the problem presented in financing school operations in sending high school students outside the township to school. Where no high school is maintained, the school laws require the district to pay the tuition of students who must go to other high schools and also pay their transportation to those schools. Since the attendance law requires all students to attend high school at least two years, the problem promised to place a financial burden on citizens of the district.

For that reason the board agreed on a special election to present two questions to the people; one to vote $85,000 worth of bonds for the erection of a high school and a centralized elementary grade school and the other to vote $60,000 worth of bonds to erect a new high school. Immediately opponents of such a plan began filing petitions, or, signifying their intention of seeking transfer from the district to avoid the expense of such a course and the board recalled the proposed special election. With the erection of a high school of their own, out of the question, it was then necessary for the property owners to present a special levy for school purposes to the voters of the township next November in order to provide a fund to pay tuition and transportation. As such funds would not be available until the next February distribution it would be necessary for the board to borrow money to finance present operations and therefore place a heavier burden on property owners.

This alternative led residents to file petitions for transfer, thus eliminating for those transferred, the necessity of paying tuition in a high school, and enabling them to provide their own transportation for their own children. Now it will be necessary, it is said, for all residents to transfer from the district, as the expense of providing tuition and transportation will be too great a burden for the few remaining with the transfers in effect.

The transfer of residents from the district will cut the income of both the Silvercreek and Xenia Township high schools, as those who will be transferred to the Xenia and Silvercreek school districts will not have to pay tuition which has been a source of income for both of these districts in the past.

YOUNG GIRL DIES IN SPRINGFIELD

Elda Lillian Bush, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bush, of Springfield, and granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. D. E. Spahr, of this city, died at her parents' home, 119 Southern Avenue, Springfield, Saturday morning at four twenty o'clock. The young girl had been ill for the past five weeks, suffering from Bright's disease, her condition gradually growing more critical. She was a talented musician, and attended school before her illness at Beattytown, where the family formerly resided. She would have been fourteen years of age in July, her death coming as a great shock to relatives and friends. She was a member of the Center Street M. E. Church of Springfield.

She is survived by her parents, her mother, being before her marriage, Miss Lillia May Spahr of this city; and two brothers, Albert, at home and Mark of near Husted.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at two o'clock, with interment at Ferncliff cemetery.
